

Moran Invites Kansans to Join Him During Annual Listening Tour

WASHINGTON, DC – Congressman Jerry Moran announced this week the first stops on his 14th annual Listening Tour, “Keeping Kansans First.” Each year since coming to Congress, Moran has traveled more than 5,000 miles to host a town hall in the 69 counties of the First Congressional District, with a total of more than 900 town halls. As Senator-Elect, Moran plans to expand his Listening Tour next year to include all 105 counties in Kansas.

“During the last fourteen years, I have made it a priority to stay connected to Kansans by traveling across the Big First District to hear from Kansans directly. I always appreciate the opportunity to hear what is most important to Kansans because it greatly impacts my work in Washington. I look forward to continuing my conversations with Kansans across all 105 counties next year,” said Congressman Jerry Moran.
